Preface

This index was undertaken as a part of work toward a master's degree in library science at Kent State University, 1972. It is hoped that it will prove useful to law librarians, and perhaps to other researchers, thus having value other than that of a simply academic exercise.

The index is all in one alphabet, following Wheatley's rule of "the index, one and indivisible." Arrangement of subject headings and modifications within the single alphabet conforms to ALA Rules for Filing Catalog Cards. Entries under subject headings, however, are in straight alphabetic order, whether they are author, title, or descriptive phrase. Entries under personal names follow the same pattern, with no distinction between entries by and entries about the person. The volume of material under subject or personal name headings was not considered sufficiently great to warrant separation.

The general guide for the terminology of subject headings is Ellinger's Subject Headings for the Literature of the Law and International Law, 2d ed., with reference also to Library of Congress Subject Headings, 7th ed. Headings have been modified as needed to fit the requirements of the material and the anticipated approach of the users to it. ("Checklists," for example, is a separate heading rather than a subdivision under "Bibliography"; the direct entry seemed preferable.) Jurisdictional rather than subject entries have been made for these subjects:

- Law
- Law reports
- Statutes

Other subjects are subdivided by jurisdiction, as required. (For example, "Africa—Law," but "Legal Education—Africa"; this is based on the reasoning that a user looking for "law" has a specific jurisdiction in mind, but that one looking for a subject such as "legal education" is more concerned with the general aspect of the subject.) For the sake of simplicity, the word "law" is omitted from most headings dealing with library matters, such as administration, finance, and security, even though the material has a law library orientation. It has been thought necessary, however, to use "law" as part of these headings:

- Law librarians
- Law librarianship
- Law libraries

The index does not include every item of information found in the 13 volumes. Omitted are:

- Page references to regular features (e.g., "Current Comments")
- Personal names, except as authors or subjects
- Ephemeral material (e.g., announcements of meetings, forthcoming publications)
- Materials readily accessible in complete form in other sources (e.g., annual reports of libraries, excerpts from indexed journals)

Thanks are due to many persons for their assistance and encouragement. Jack Ellenberger, chairman of the Law Library Journal Committee, and C. E. Bolden, editor of the Journal, have given generous encouragement and guidance. Credit for the original suggestion for the compilation of the index goes to Gertrude Johnson, librarian of Akron University School of Law Library. Akron Law Library and Akron University School of Law Library kindly loaned volumes needed for the work. Nina B. Duncan, UNM School of Law Library, gave helpful advice. Marge Furrer and Hwi-sook Koh, of the KSU School of Library Science staff, helped with preparation of the manuscript. Special thanks go to Howard Warden, who exercised patience and offered encouragement while his wife worked on the index, as well as helping with the physical details of assembling the manuscript.
